the candidates for membership in the next general assembly. When it is a known fact that certain influences are at work seeking to elect members who will join in the endeavor to impeach the governor, it is at all surprising that Mr. Small should manifest decided interest in the personnel of the assembly.

Somehow after reading the insane publicity about Helen Pettigrew, twenty-three years of age and announced candidate for governor of Kansas, one cannot help thinking that it would be nice for Helen to return to the department store in Kansas City where she formerly held a position.

The rainy weather has delayed farm work in a marked degree. The acreage of oats planted is small and farmers are behind with other work. But the record of past seasons affords proof that there is no real cause for worry. The season is not on record when farmers hereabout failed to have an opportunity to plant their fields.

Speaking of the value of newspaper publicity, two weeks ago comparatively few people in District No. 7 knew that a road district election was to be held or the names of the candidates. The publicity given to general facts about the district and the election was not wholly responsible for the keen public interest shown, but undoubtedly had a large influence in creating that interest.

In the discussion concerning routes for hard roads it will be well for Morgan county residents to bear in mind the fact that hard roads are not likely to be built thru districts where the property owners are not able to reach an agreement as to the proper course of such routes.

HAVE IT—ADVERTISE IT.
(The Herald-Examiner.)

Some gentlemen at Washington criticized the advertising policy of Lasker, head of the United States Shipping Board. Lasker, who knows as much about advertising as anybody in America, knows that the way to make shipping, or anything else, a success is to advertise it. Those that criticize may be interested in advertising done in this country by the steamship lines of the Canadian Pacific railroad. They have good ships, a short trip to Europe plus the brains to know that advertising is profitable. For one advertisement in one newspaper, they paid more than $100,000. And they get their money back ten for one and more.

First, to have what people want, then to let them know it thru advertising is the secret of success. The old way was to let the people find it out gradually and slowly, in time for your grandson to get rich. The modern way is to have it today and make everybody know it tomorrow, or if possible this afternoon.

MAN BURIED DIRECTS
RESCUERS IN WORK

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 6.—Buried one hour and forty minutes under twelve feet of earth which entombed him when a tunnel he was digging caved in, Emil Geist, 33, directed, with occasional shouts, the rescue work which brought him out exhausted but only slightly injured late today. In digging a ditch for a sewer connection with his house, Geist missed the sewer by several feet and was tunneling to reach it when the earth fell upon him. Heavy chunks of clay lay in a manner which admitted air to his tomb. As rescuers attacked the cave-in with shovels, Geist cautioned them not to fill in the air passage and directed them how to dig.

Geist's injuries were principally the result of cold due to the damp earth and its weight upon his body, physicians said. "Take me where it's warm," he gasped, as his rescuers pulled him out.

HOPE TO SOON
ARREST AXE MURDERER

(By The Associated Press)
CONCORDIA, Kans., April 6.—Sheriff Moore stated tonight that an arrest was expected soon of the man guilty of the Tremblay axe murder Tuesday night when Theodore Tremblay was killed, his four brothers hacked, probably fatally, his father slightly wounded and the home and barn set on fire.

The investigation turned today to financial matters of the family. The alibi of the 16 year old son Philip, who was absent when the crime was committed was considered by the officers as "absolutely good."

The officers further stated they had ascertained that a mortgage of $4,000 issued by a firm of Beatrice, Nebraska, in 1916, became due last June 21, but was never paid off. The boy, Theodore, carried $5,000 insurance, of which $2,000 was paid.

Two of the injured boys were reported in a critical condition tonight and were not expected to live.

ALLEGED MRS. FRADY
HELD REVOLVER

Miami, Fla., April 6.—Testimony to show that Mrs. Dorothy Frady, prior to receiving the bullet wounds which caused her death firmly held a revolver in her right hand, was submitted at the hearing this afternoon on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus to release Edgar C. Frady, of Chicago, held on a charge of murdering his wife, from jail on bond. Defense attorneys based their contention that Mrs. Frady held a revolver in her own hand on a small wound on her right index finger, which they declared was caused by the trigger when Frady attempted to wrest the weapon from her.

SCOTT COUNTY MAN
DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Richard Coultas Passed Away on Thursday Evening at St. Louis Hospital—Other Items From Winchester and Vicinity.

Winchester, April 6.—A message Thursday evening by friends here told of the death of Richard Coultas of Riggsport, which occurred at 9 o'clock Thursday night at a hospital in St. Louis. The deceased underwent an operation there Monday and his condition was serious from the first. He had been a great sufferer for a number of months past but thru it all maintained a patient, cheerful spirit. He had hopes of regaining his health, and everything possible was done to aid him in his struggle for life, but to no avail.

At his bedside when the final hour came were his devoted wife, his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. G. Coultas, and one sister, Mrs. E. W. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, and his brother Carl Coultas. Another sister, Mrs. Norman Campbell of Jacksonville, is at the Coultas home in Riggsport. The remains will be brought from St. Louis on the noon train Friday and will be taken to the family home in Riggsport.

The deceased was a young man of fine character and was well known in Winchester and other parts of Scott county. He served in the U. S. army during the World war and since his return home has been engaged in farming. His wife before her marriage was Miss Fern McLaughlin of Winchester.

A suitable obituary sketch will appear later, and announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made Saturday morning.

PARENT-TEACHER ASS'N.
OF THIRD WARD MEETS

Principal B. F. Shafer Made Address Before Association Meeting at Franklin School Thursday Evening—Interesting Program Presented By Children.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Third Ward met last evening at the Franklin School for the regular monthly session. Principal B. F. Shafer of the high school made an address and a very interesting program was given. A large number of parents and teachers were present and the meeting was quite a successful one.

Mrs. J. E. Bossarte, president of the association presided during the evening and introduced the speakers. The children of the Primary grade first sang a group of songs and Miss Mabel Biggs gave a delightful reading entitled "Night Run of the Overland," by Eleanor Peake. Music was also furnished by the girls in the sixth grade who sang a group of songs. Mr. Shafer then made the address of the evening taking as his subject "Students Who Stick To The Job." The speaker referred especially to the students who are noted for their industry rather than for any special talent or extraordinary intelligence. These are the students who eventually "arrive" in school life and the possessions of these qualities are of the same benefit to the individual in later life.

Mr. Shafer said that as a general rule the students who get the most out of their school work are not the students who have the most ability. He stated that after making a study of the facts he had found that, generally speaking, the students who have the most ability are the ones who get the least out of their school work. The speaker said that the general statement does not always hold true and by a chart illustrated how some students who possess marked ability also make fine records in school.

The point was emphasized that the student who possesses only average ability but who receives encouragement at home to do his best at school is likely to make a good showing in his studies. The speaker said that the best students come from homes where the parents are not satisfied unless the child has done his best. He deplored the fact that there were so many parents who are satisfied with a passing mark, not caring particularly whether or not the child has done his very best in school.

Mr. Shafer said that the children who knew how to play when play time came were the best all around students. The child who is a book worm, he said, misses a great deal of fun and while he spends a great deal more time in study in the long run is not so well off as the student who divides his time more evenly in work and play.

Charts were exhibited made up from the grades which students had made in English and algebra and also in a test which was given to determine the students' ability to do school work. Altogether it was a very informing talk and was heard with great interest by the large company present.

The program was followed by a pleasant social hour and light refreshments were served. The officers of the organization acted as the hostess committee for the evening.

JOHN DEVLIN CALLED BY DEATH THURSDAY

Well Known Resident of City Passed Away at Home on North East Street—Had Spent Sixty Years in Jacksonville.

The death of John Devlin a well known resident of this city, came at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the family home, 636 North East street. Mr. Devlin had been ill for a number of weeks and his condition had been regarded as serious for a number of days past.

The deceased was born in Castlebar, County Mayo, Ireland, on June 23, 1842. He came to the United States in early life and had spent more than sixty years in this city. Mr. Devlin was a printer by occupation and was a member of the Courier force in the early days when all type was set by hand. He held a position with the Courier for about fifteen years and later served as deputy county clerk under County Clerk Williams.

Mr. Devlin was a man of upright character, industrious and devoted to home and family. Until about a year ago he was in charge of the supply room at the car shops and gave up active work because of advancing years. He was a devoted member of the church of Our Savior.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. J. H. Zell of Jacksonville, Stephen Devlin, Beards-town; John Devlin, San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Charles Bleese, Miss Agnes Devlin and Charles Devlin all residing in this city.

HARD ROAD NO. 3.

Editor of the Journal: Mr. Taxpayer and Mr. Taxpayer and Landowner. In Sunday's edition of your paper objecting to the proposed Route of Bond Issue Road Route No. 3 passing thru Woodson, etc. advanced some very peculiar points.

One of these distances, this will answer itself as every school boy and girl can tell and prove to them by drawing a line from N. E. to S. W. and then measuring the two sides of the square these lines connect, and common sense will tell one that to build a shorter road over level ground is cheaper than a long road over hills and hollows.

Now comes the strange and startling argument in which advance the theory that it is better to build a road away from market connections than to it. It was my idea when we voted for the $60,000,000,000 Bond Issue to build hard roads in Illinois, we voted to get business out of the mud and not for a speedway for automobile tourists and speed maniacs but these parties say in their articles because Woodson has a prosperous elevator, is a shipping point for numerous cattle and hogs, that you must keep people away from travel over a longer distance and uneven road bed, and build a road at a greater expense in order that this may be done. Strange views some people have in this life, and they even go so far as to admit they advance this argument for selfish motives.

As far as citizens in Murrayville donating grading service for the Western Route you can count that nil, that village is wise enough to know when they get the best end of a bargain and will take off its coats to help boost the shortest and easiest road from Murrayville to Jacksonville viz. through Woodson.

Go into the Band Wagon, boist and don't knock and lets spend our energy and printers' ink to the end that more contracts are let in Morgan county this year.

CHARLES S. BLACK REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION FOR SHERIFF.

Charles S. Black is a Morgan county product. He is a son of the late Samuel Black and has spent all of his life in this county, the greater part of it on the farm three miles north of the city which is now his home. He is a hard worker, a good business man and his farm through the years has been well managed.

Charles S. Black has for thirty years been a member of the official board of Ebenezer church. He served for a long period as superintendent of the Sunday school and his earnest interest in upward and forward movements in this county and in religious affairs is a matter of common knowledge.

He has lived in a way consistent with his beliefs and there is no resident of Morgan county who has a cleaner record than this candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff. Adv.

KANSAS SHIPPER ASKED TO KEEP THE YARDS OPEN

This is What W. J. Todd Did When Asked to Get Them Closed

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—When W. J. Todd, of Maple Hill, Kansas, received a letter from the Kansas City Livestock Exchange asking him to write to Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace, and request that the Mistletoe Stock Yards be closed he wrote instead and asked the secretary not to close the Mistletoe Yards.
Todd, a ranchman and one of the heaviest shippers of cattle to the Kansas City market, testified at today's session of the department of agriculture hearing on hog marketing practices, in which the local livestock exchange seeks the closing of the Mistletoe Yards of the Fowler Packing company, an Armour subsidiary.
He volunteered the information about the letter from the livestock exchange to Judge B. T. Hainer, federal commissioner in charge of the hearing. Counsel for Armour in their opening statement declared that extensive efforts had been made in advance of the hearing to prejudice the issue thru what were described as propaganda letters to farmers and producers.
Mr. Todd gave it as his opinion that hundreds of producers would object to the closing of the Mistletoe Yards.

(By The Associated Press)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 6.—President Herber J. Grant of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, speaking at the annual conference of the church today denounced that portion of the British press which had adversely criticised Mormons and the Mormon religion.
Some British newspapers he said had referred to alleged immorality among the Mormons.
"We wicked and bad people according to the laws of England" he said, "have a lower death rate than two of the largest life insurance company statistics and a higher birth rate than many other states and countries. Wicked and bad immoral people have neither of these."

SMALL'S TRIAL IS AGAIN POSTPONED

"Well, I would not know. I don't go thru the books there, I couldn't say."
Luther Bratton, vice-president of the bank and its attorneys objected to the state's having free access to the books, and insisted that all accounts not directly involved in the governor's case should be sealed.
"There might as well be no inspection, because the very object in inspecting a book of that kind is to inspect the entire book," Mr. Wilkerson protested.
"Oh yes," Mr. Bratton retorted, "but our courts have held that you cannot go on a fishing expedition. You might say here is the account of 'John Brown,' a depositor, with a certificate for $5,000, we will just get John Brown here and see what that was. That is what makes it a fishing expedition and nothing else."
"Now, if your honor please," Mr. Wilkerson replied, "the term fishing expedition is not properly applicable to the prosecution of a criminal case because the prosecutor has in mind the enforcement of the law always and the power of the grand jury at his command. We have been dealing very considerably with these gentlemen. We have been trying to work this thing out in an orderly way in this court. We are not prepared here to tolerate or debate about a fishing expedition because we are entitled to this inspection."
Mr. Wilkerson asked Mr. Griffin if he was able to produce a list of papers asked for by the state from the records of the Grant Park Trust and Savings Bank of which Vernon Curtis, a fellow defendant with Governor Small, is president.
"Nothing except what was delivered here and is now in the hands of the circuit clerk," the witness replied.
The examination continued:
Q—"Do you keep teller sheets in your bank?" Mr. Griffin?
A—"We have a book which I presume corresponds to the teller's sheets. It is a pad."
Q—"Well do you have those for the year 1917?"
A—"No sir."
Q—"For the year 1918?"
A—"No sir."
Q—"Well for what period have you those sheets?"
A—"I can't say exactly, but covering a part of 1921."
Q—"What was done with the teller's sheets covering the items in the memorandum submitted to you?"
A—"Part of them, to my knowledge, have been destroyed."
Q—"When?"
A—"Can't say exactly when, but some time about February 1921, about the latter part of February 1921."
Q—"Who destroyed them?"
A—"I can't say exactly."
Q—"Have you any idea on the subject?"
A—"Well I think the janitor destroyed part of them."
Q—"The janitor, who is the janitor?"
A—"Well, the janitor at that time is not now alive."
Q—"When did he die?"
A—"Just a short time ago, about three or four weeks ago."
Q—"What was his name?"
A—"Edwin Lakey."
Q—"You say you think he destroyed part of them?"
A—"Yes."
Q—"At whose direction?"
A—"Well I don't think at anyone's direction."
Q—"Well narrate a little more the circumstances; explain how a janitor would have access to papers of a bank with authority to destroy them?"
Mr. Griffin explained the bank had installed a burglar alarm device in February 1921, and all papers were removed from the vault while the work was being done, being stored in the basement where "a good deal of the material was inadvertently burned in the furnace."
Mr. Wilkerson asked about drafts for the years 1917-18 and whether they also had been sent to the basement. Some were, the witness testified.
"Who sent them there?" Mr. Wilkerson asked.
"Well I don't know exactly," Mr. Griffin replied.
Q—"Did Mr. Curtis send them, Mr. Vernon Curtis?"
A—"Not that I know of."
Q—"Well how do you know they were there then?"
A—"There were a lot of drafts filed in the vault previous to that time, this was all removed, and a great deal of that was carried to the basement and never returned from the basement."
Q—"Who did the physical work of removing them?"
A—"Well I don't know, I can't just say. The janitor did part of it."
Q—"The man who is dead?"
A—"Yes."
Q—"Anybody else help him?"
A—"Yes."
Q—"Who?"
A—"Well I think the assistant cashier helped."
Q—"Who was he?"
A—"Mr. Ruge."
Q—"You don't think that Ruge told the janitor to burn these up?"
A—"No I am sure that he did not."
Q—"Why are you sure he did not?"
A—"Well for no reason."
Q—"You say you are sure he did not. Do you mean somebody else did?"
A—"I am quite sure he did not."
Q—"Then who did tell him?"
A—"I don't think anybody told him that."

GAVE ORDERS AGAINST CAPTURE OF MONSTER

BUENOS AIRES, April 6.—Professor Clementi Onelli, director of the Buenos Aires zoo who organized the expedition which left for Patagonia, March 23, in search of reported plesiosaurian monster was disturbed by dispatches from Trelew, province of Chubut, saying Governor Franozi had given orders forbidding the capture of the beast. The dispatches said the governor acted on instructions from the minister of the interior in Buenos Aires who had decided to prohibit the hunt at the behest of Dr. Albaracin, president of the Argentina Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.
Nothing has been heard from the expedition since it plunged into the wilderness after arriving at Bariloche Pass, in the edge of the Andes Mountains. Professor Onelli called upon Minister of the Interior Gomez this afternoon to protest against the order in the name of science.

OPERATORS AND UNION LEADERS REALLY AGREE

Say That Organization Movement is Gaining Ground

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 6. — While operators and union leaders were tonight far apart in their estimates of non-union miners who have joined the coal strike in the Fayette county coke region, they agreed that the organization movement was gaining ground, principally among independent miners in the Monongahela river.

P. T. Fagin district vice-president of the United Mine Workers announced after he had tabulated reports from organizers that 62 non-union miners had been closed by the strike this week.

Spokesmen for the operators said that about 45 mines in the territory covered by the union report had been affected by the strike some of them being entirely shut down while others included in the union's list were working with lessened forces.

PROHIBITION HAVING BENEFICIAL EFFECT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 6. — Prohibition is having a beneficial effect in the cities, according to the answers to a questionnaire sent to the mayors of some of the largest cities by the Union Signal official publication of the Women's Temperance Union. Some answers were made public today and it was asserted that returns show 95 per cent favorable to prohibition.

"I am confident that when the final returns have been received we shall find that prohibition is considered wise and desirable by the great majority," Miss Anna M. Gordon, world and national president of the W. C. T. U., said today.

H. H. Barton, mayor of Des Moines, termed it a "brilliant promoter" and John McNabb of Grand Rapids said it had a good effect on domestic relations.

WEDDING DELAYED FOR GROOM'S WIG.

SHARPSBURG, Ill., April 6. —

The Rev. H. H. Munch, 43, interrupted his own wedding ceremony today while his bride-to-be Miss Leona Peden, 17, church organist waited 30 minutes until her minister-groom returned from chasing youngsters who knocked a wig off the head of the minister as he walked sedately to the sanctuary with his bride.

Several youths arose as the bridal couple stepped toward the altar to the tune of a wedding march and as the minister neared them they laughed and then ran. The groom recovered his hirsute adornment from the church aisle then after a chase returned to the altar and was married.

CONTINUE PROBE INTO DEATH OF COLONEL BECK

Investigating Report That High State Official
Was Present

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 6. — County officials continued their investigation today of the death Tuesday of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Beck, shot to death by Jean P. Day, attorney in the latter's home after Day alleged Beck was found attacking Mrs. Day but no materially developments were announced.

Officials at Post Field, Fort Sill, Okla., where Lieutenant Colonel Beck was assistant commandant, ordered that his body be held here until Saturday in order that his son Lieutenant Paul Beck, and Lieutenant John Beck, a nephew, could attend the coroner's inquest set for Saturday afternoon. Both will accompany the body to Washington after the inquest.

County Attorney Forest Hughes announced he was investigating a report that a high state official attended the party at the Day home the night Lieutenant Col. Beck was slain. Day declared that the list of guests first made public was correct and that no state official or others not named were at the party. Other members of the party substantiated the statement.

Sheriff Dancy, said his inspection of X-ray pictures of Beck's head led him to the belief that Beck was shot from behind. Day declared this to be impossible. Since his meeting with the Days six months ago, Lieutenant Colonel Beck had frequently entertained and been entertained by the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Day said they trusted him as one of their most intimate friends and that never had he given them cause for suspicion.

His advances to her after Mr. Day had left to take their guests home in his motor car were as astounding as they were shocking, Mrs. Day said.

Mrs. Day was reported seriously ill and on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

CHINESE EMPEROR PRISONER IN PEKING

All ceremonies with the Manchus emperors are still kept up—

Peking. — In spite of the fact that China dynasty has been out of power since 1911 and the present emperor of China is a virtual prisoner in the Forbidden City of Peking, all ceremonies connected with the Manchus emperors are still kept up. At the recent Chinese New Year's celebration the customary honor was paid to the spirits of the emperors in their resting place at the Eastern Tomb. Offerings of food and provisions were placed before the tombs and the Ching dynasty kowtow according to the custom prescribed in Manchus house law for the imperial family.

These officials are experiencing considerable difficulty in following out of the old customs because of the lack of funds available for the upkeep of the emperors' tombs. The funds promised to the imperial family by the republican government are usually very tardily paid with the result that poverty is facing the one time affluent Manchus. At the Eastern tombs many of the Manchus, deprived of the annual stipend formerly paid by the imperial government have been forced to become gatherers of wood and charcoal in order to support themselves. The old towns and villages are falling into ruins, the forests of the huge tract devoted to the burial of the emperors are fast becoming devastated, and the monumental tombs are beginning to fall into ruin and decay.

* Every effort is being made by the officials of the tombs, however to maintain the glory of the dead emperors, and the ceremonies at New Years typified the attitude of these faithful adherents of a departed order who refuse to allow the glory of the Ching dynasty and the Manchus rule to be dimmed.

OBJECT TO USE OF 1910 CENSUS FIGURES

WASHINGTON, April 6. — Communications addressed to the state department by Ambassador Ricci of Italy appealing against use of the 1910 census figures as a basis for fixing the three per cent quotas under the immigration restriction act have been forwarded by Secretary Hughes to Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee and made public today. Mr. Hughes made the observation "that the restrictions imposed" are of a general character and therefore do not appear to be discriminatory against Italy or any other country.

FOURTH ANNUAL CONVENTION CALLED

Mississippi Valley Association to Meet in St. Louis April 25-26.
Many Prominent Speakers Secured.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., — A call for the fourth annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association to be held at Kansas City, April 25-26 sent from the Association's headquarters here, emphasizes the necessity for fixed thought and expression upon the transportation problem. The call urges Valley commercial and trade organizations, the leading commercial and agricultural interests to assist in the formulation of a transportation program tending to correct the present transportation situation, which has been styled in the convention call as "The Tragedy of Transportation."

The Mississippi Valley Association is an organization fostering the movement to secure the economic development of the 27 states of the Mississippi Valley; and has in its membership the leading commercial trade organizations, business and agricultural interests in this territory.

R. H. Faxon, secretary-treasurer of the organization predicts that from the sessions of the convention will come such concentration of thought and action as to assure a well-rounded program of future activity for Valley development. The attendance he estimates will exceed 1,000.

In a statement issued today by Faxon he states that "if business and citizenship are really 'turning the corner,' as believed by the thoughtful and discerning the lessons of the past and the necessity for preparation for the future must not be overlooked." "There has never been a time in the history of the Valley territory requiring such thorough introspection as now, Faxon says.

Won Notable Victories.

"Through the recent period of uncertainty and depression, the Mississippi Valley has stood together, acted together, won notable victories, and gained economic progress," says Faxon. "This was because it was desperate in its necessities. The hope of better days will not rob the Valley of the urgency of vigilance."

"The Mississippi Valley Association has helped the Valley in these darker days because that was exactly why it was in existence. The Valley Idea was right and the Valley Cause just. Both persevered. The Association is now in readiness to go forward with the better days and better promise now upon us.

"The program is of a type heretofore unequalled, and leads confidently to the prediction that the discussion, the debate, the pronouncement, the sentiment of the Mississippi Valley as expressed at Kansas City will flow into other national meetings and into public favor and crystallization as to result effectively and further evidence of constructive value of the Mississippi Valley Association."

"The two main objectives of the Kansas City meeting will be: To fix thought and expression upon the 'Tragedy of Transportation.' To suggest to the Valley and to the country such connections between world economies and the Valley as may lead to a second World Conference at Washington — a fit successor to the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments; building upon a more stable economic foundation than the Genoa Conference."

The program of speakers to address the convention is composed, according to Faxon, of many of the most prominent men in the country. Included in the list of speakers will be the heads of Governmental departments at Washington, Governors of the various Mississippi Valley states, Valley senators and Congressmen, and the leaders in commerce and agriculture of the Mississippi Valley.

ERIE WILL HAVE LOW RATE EXCURSIONS

Chicago, April 6. — A reduction in passenger fares was announced tonight by the Erie Railroad which will operate low rate excursions from Chicago, Dayton, Ohio, Sharon, Pa., and principal intermediate points to New York City. The round trip rate from Chicago will be $13, compared with the present round trip fare of $61.40. The reductions average approximately 10 per cent under the present rates.

MY CHILD

A graving child is a privilege rather than a responsibility.

Parents who have been unable to acquire special knowledge or culture in their own lives can, through their children, complete a life's work in many ways.

Nothing in life is surer in its upbuilding of character and fineness than music. To inspire a child to play well there must be a tangible contact with the great music of the world. The offers much both as a musical instrument and as a teacher. A great musician has said:

"If I were teaching the piano at this time, I would not confine myself to any individual piano instructor, but would turn to the Gulbransen and acquire through its rolls an intimate knowledge of the style of all the world's greatest pianists, as revealed by them. I consider such a course by far the best method by which a pianist who has passed the first rudimentary stages can develop true artistry."

The Gulbransen is the Player that is taught quickly by delightful instruction rolls.

KIWANIS CLUB HELD WEEKLY LUNCHEON

State's Attorney Robinson Made Address on Good Relations Between U. S. and Canada.

Following the suggestion of the International Kiwanis organization, the local club yesterday at the weekly luncheon at the Peacock Inn heard an address on the relationship between the U. S. and Canada. State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson was given this theme, which was presented in a very interesting way.

Kiwanis clubs in the U. S. and Canada have held programs of this kind during the week, the purpose being to further cement the kindly relations that exist between the two countries. President Felix E. Farrell presided during the session and reports were made by the chairman of a number of standing committees. The attendance prize for the week was awarded to Robert Mullenix.

In his address Mr. Robinson talked about the treaty between the U. S. and Canada, and said: "A treaty is, after all, nothing more than so much dried ink on a piece of paper, while man is a living creature infused with restless intellectual force."

"It has been to often proven in the past that they who put their faith in the power of a scratching pen, have been overwhelmed by those whose ambitions were carried forward thru a knowledge of how most diplomatically to persuade to their own purpose, the men whose intelligence would accomplish their ends."

"Even under the best conditions a treaty that is not backed by the multitudes represented in the signatures attached to it, is useless. Peace cannot come thru the typewriter or the quill pen. It must come thru mankind itself. Little sectional hatreds must cease in all practice."

"People who differ in political or religious matters must learn that such things are matters of degree of intelligence or perception, even, frequently, of heredity or of environment, and are causes for personal enmity only to mean minds."

"While there is a broadness which is so broad that it is too shallow to contain any depth of thought, there is another broadness which, like the sea, encompasses all things and all depths. This is the broadness of human understanding, of that loving-kindness of one man to another which St. Paul referred to when he wrote, 'Rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoice in the truth, heareth all things, believeth all things, hopeeth all things, endureth all things.'"

STRONG SERMON AT NORTHMINSTER CHURCH

Dr. Sears Delivers Sermon On "The Only Way to Be Saved"—Large Audience Present Thursday Night.

The Thursday night audience at Northminster church was one of the largest yet. The song service which preceded the sermon was led by Frank Bracewell and proved very inspiring. Dr. Sears spoke on the subject, "The Only Way to Be Saved," taking his text from Luke 18:10. He said in part:

It is a law of nature that like begets like, and the same law holds good in spiritual things. We judge a thing by what good it does for humanity. This is true in science, literature, mechanics, and is more than true in the matter of Bible religion. What has Christianity done for the world? Judge it by the good it has done for the world.

Every one here needs a Saviour. You need to be saved, no matter whether you are the meekest old sinner in town, or whether you are a moral, upright citizen. Your morality will not save you. There is but one way to get to heaven and that is by the way of the Cross.

Too many people in the city are hoping to be saved by being good moral citizens, remember that without the shedding of blood there is no remission for sin. It was the blood of the lamb that delivered the children of Israel from bondage in Egypt. This was a type of the lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world for all sin. So away with the idea you can be saved without the blood of Christ applied to your heart and life. The best man in Jacksonville out of Christ as well as the meastest need to be saved by the blood of Christ.

There will be no services Saturday night. Dr. Sears will speak to the old people Sunday morning. All who have autos are asked to see that all the old people have a way to come to church. Dr. James S. McGraw, America's Rapid Fire Civic Evangelist will speak Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Heard Hon. R. A. J. Shaw, the great race orator and assistant corporation counsel of Chicago tonight (Friday) at Court House, after the Green and Black speakers. You will then vote for Dr. John A. Wheeler for State Senator.

"BIG SHOP" WILL LAY OFF EMPLOYEES

McCarthy-Gebert & Co., Find It Necessary to Further Curtail Cigar Production.

McCarthy-Gebert & Co., gave notice to employees yesterday that the factory will close down this week for an indefinite period. For several months past about 75 persons have been employed at the factory, this number being considerably less than normal. Further, these workers have been on the part time basis, each cigar maker being limited to 1,000 a week.

The new order will lay off all employees except a very few who will be kept to work up the stocks remaining on hand. It is understood that wide-spread non-employment has cut down the cigar business in quite a material way. Further, the great increase in the use of cigarettes is having the natural effect of somewhat reducing the consumption of cigars.

TRANSPORTATION NEEDS TO HAVE CONSIDERATION

Railroad Representatives Will Be Asked to Attend Forum Meeting—Further Clean Up Week Plans Announced.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night expressed their approval of the suggestion of the forum committee made thru Dr. Carl E. Black that transportation be the theme of an early forum meeting. The purpose is to consider matters particularly with reference to railroad transportation and to invite representatives of various railroads entering the city of Jacksonville on a certain date and discuss plans for bettering facilities.

The regular meeting of the directors was held last night with President B. Y. Rowe presiding. Others present were H. M. Capps, John W. Merrigan, Edward Brennan, W. E. Sullivan, John S. Hackett, Henry Frisch and Secretary Harold Welch.

Mr. Brennan for the fair association committee was able to report that the $1500 asked by the association from business men had been secured. A committee in each ward faithfully undertook the work of solicitation.

According to a statement made by Secretary Welch the trade extension committee holds meetings regularly every two weeks and various plans are under consideration for expanding the trade area of Jacksonville. The secretary also gave informal report of the work being done by the committee which is aiding the building association in the sale of additional stock.

It was stated that the association has been urged to make all loans to persons who erect new buildings rather than to persons purpose of paying off mortgages on their property.

Clean-Up Week Program.

The secretary gave some further explanation of plans for clean-up week. The actual work is to begin with an inspection by Boy Scouts on Saturday, April 15th. Through an organized effort the boys will view back yards, streets and alleys all over the city. They will make notation only of places where clean up work is needed. On the following Monday there will be a parade of school children forming at the high school building and the line of march will take them into the business district. Brooms, brushes and other articles naturally identified with a clean up week program will be carried.

Lloyd S. Reid has agreed to furnish a number of placards or transparencies to be carried. T. H. Buckthorpe, who has the city garbage disposal contract, has agreed to furnish several teams for the week and will co-operate actively in bringing about good results.

Progress was reported by the committee which has the matter of the establishment of a traffic bureau under consideration. It has not yet been determined as to whether or not the amount of business to be done will justify the expense of maintaining a bureau.

C. & A. Program.

In connection with transportation matters, Secretary Welch read a letter from E. H. Yarke, division passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton, stating that beginning April 3 the south bound passenger train at 6:35 a. m. will connect with train 44 at Murrayville for Springfield, making it possible to arrive in the capital city at 7:45 a. m.

The Chamber of Commerce took this matter up with the C. & A. at the request of a number of patrons of the road for whom this service means a distinct convenience.

Mr. Yarke said the road would be glad to discuss with the Chamber of Commerce directors other improvements of the service. In the general discussion about the transportation matters emphasis was laid upon the fact of the need of additional service on the Wabash. It is a long stretch from 8:15 in the morning until 9:15 at night for passenger service to the east.

Other Railroad Matters.

The directors realize that railroad business is now somewhat depressed but they feel that an earnest effort should be made to secure additional service on this road.

One director mentioned that it would be feasible to ask the Wabash to leave the morning sleeper from Chicago here on a side track instead of taking it to Quincy. This would mean that Pullman passengers on the early morning train could stay in their berths until their usual rising hour. It would also be a convenience for Chicago passengers on the night train. It is said that it is seldom that this sleeper has passengers from points west of Jacksonville. At any rate the directors look upon transportation as a question which should be given earnest thought.

Service Not Promises Count

The Legislative Voters League is a non-partisan, non-political organization which analyzes the work of all members of the general assembly and then summarizes its findings.

Here is the Legislative Voters' League estimate of the service rendered by Jacob Frisch as a member of the legislature from this district:

"Jacob Frisch, representative (Rep.); druggist, Springfield. Ending third term; obtained legislation creating a State bureau to aid in the recovery of stolen motor vehicles; a reliable and capable legislator who made a very good record."

It has been the purpose of Jacob Frisch to devote equal thought to the interests of Morgan and Sangamon counties.

He introduced and pushed the bill making it possible for Jacksonville to secure the land necessary for the establishment of the Jacksonville water works.

He has fostered improvements at the state institutions and worked in a way to make available the funds for the paving of streets adjacent to the state institutions.

He was active in securing back pay for the teachers of the School for the Deaf and for the Blind. He secured the rightful scale of wages for a number of employees at the School for the Deaf.

As a member of the appropriations committee for two terms he has worked incessantly for the interests of this district. The record is written and will bear your inspection.

STRAW VALUABLE AS FERTILIZER

Care Must Be Taken, However, in Its Use—Serves to Conserve Nitrate.

Urbana, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—Straw has valuable fertilizing content, and returning the straw of small grains to soils may be "decidedly beneficial or decidedly detrimental, depending on the amount, manner and time of application," Prof. Albert L. Whiting of the University of Illinois said recently. The fertility value of straw, according to Prof. Whiting, lies particularly in its potassium, of which oat straw contains twenty-seven pounds a ton.

"To obtain the full benefit of this potassium and not unbalance the bacterial activities of the soil demands careful consideration," he continued.

"Straw exerts its beneficial effects in soils from physical, chemical and biological standpoints. Its harmful action arises chiefly from the biological unbalance it brings about in the soil population. The texture of soils may be improved by the presence of organic matter, such as represented by straw.

"The high fiber and wood sugar content of straw furnishes available carbon for bacteria of the soil that seek cellulose and sugar. The result is a great increase in the number of such organisms with a large production of acids and carbon dioxide. The checking of nitrate production and the disappearance of the nitrate already present in the soil are brought about by straw if present in the soil at the time when nitrates should be formed.

"Straw applied to soils when their bacterial population is inactive, or when it is not soon to become active, will not exert an injurious effect. Such placed and periods in a crop rotation occur as covering for winter wheat and rye, on pastures, clover, cowpea, and soybean fields. Under these conditions, the potassium will be used to advantage and the unbalancing of the bacterial population will be desirable on the clover, cowpea, soybean and pasture fields. Legumes should be encouraged to use atmospheric nitrogen instead of depending upon soil nitrate. Straw has this effect and serves to conserve the nitrate that would be lost by leaching.

"Straw should not be plowed under in the spring on soils that are in preparation for oats or corn, as it reduces the nitrate and prevents its accumulation, thereby robbing these crops."

APRON SALE A SUCCESS

At the apron sale held Wednesday afternoon in connection with the meeting of the Lafayette Parent-Teacher association fifty aprons were sold, netting something over $60. The aprons were contributed by the mothers of the children in the school and were all of attractive design.

The mothers of the children in Miss Anderson's and Miss Todd's rooms served ice cream and angel food cake, and one large cake which was left was sold at a hand some price.

Mrs. Bernard Gause was chairman of the committee in charge of the sale, assisted by Mrs. J. N. Conover and Mrs. S. A. Thompson.

INDIA PROTESTS THE CHURCHILL STATEMENT

Will Resist Any Restriction of Rights of Fellow Countrymen in Africa.

Calcutta.—By The Associated Press.—Winston Churchill's declaration at a dinner in London and in the House of Commons that Indian immigration into Mount Kenya Colony, British East Africa, would not be permitted by the Colonial Department has caused a storm of protest in British India.

Nationalist leaders in all parts of the country are making it plain to the government that they will resist any restriction of the rights of their fellow countrymen in Africa.

The Indian Legislative Assembly at Delhi, after a keen debate, has passed a resolution condemning the policy announced by Mr. Churchill and declaring that "any failure in His Majesty's African territories to meet the lawful claims of Indians for equality of status with all other classes of His Majesty's subjects will be regarded as a serious violation of the rights of Indians to citizenship."

The assembly requested its "emphatic protest" to be sent to the British cabinet.

This action of the assembly was vigorously upheld at a public meeting in Madras where Mrs. Annie Besant, theosophist leader, vehemently denounced the doctrine of superiority of the white race over the colored and advocated that meetings be held all over the country in support of the Indians in Kenya.

C. F. Andrews, formerly an English missionary, now a leader of the Indian Nationalists, in a speech protested against the proposed prohibition of Indian immigration into Kenya and against the segregation in residential areas. In concluding, he said:

"It (the British policy) implies that Anglo-Saxon civilization is to dominate the world. The Anglo-Saxon race is to have a dominating world power. This is what I have called the cult of the White Empire, the religion of the white race."

"Everywhere in the British colonies in Africa I have found this same white race religion. To me this arrogance of the white race is detestable. It is un-Christian. It is unhuman."

LIGHT VOTE IS CAST

White Hall, April 6.—There were a total of 430 votes cast at the township election Tuesday out of a possible 1200. There was no contest except one proposition to oil the roads of the township outside the city limits, which was defeated by 30 votes. The defeat grows out of the community high school proposition being defeated by the country vote, and some voters in town retaliated by voting to defeat the proposition for oil to the amount of 6 2-3c per $100 valuation additional tax. Herein lies a little joker, because the town board will proceed to levy a tax of 6c, slightly under the amount asked, and the main roads of the township will be oiled. Another drawback to carrying the proposition was in the way it was stated on the ballot being greatly misunderstood.

J. W. Trunnels was elected assessor, and he is now rounding out his 24th consecutive year, the record for the state in that office and is now set for two more years.

H. F. Greer was re-elected town clerk, and three justices of the peace were elected as follows: E. L. Wendell, D. M. Bradburn and J. W. Lyman. Wendell's vote ran right along with that of Trunnels in two precincts. Miss Mary Ellis and Rev. Leo A. Hanchett were elected as library trustees.

WHITE HALL PLANS A LIBRARY BUILDING

City Council Considers Plans Presented by S. N. Griswold for New Library — Other White Hall News.

White Hall, April 6.—At the regular April session of the city council Seth N. Griswold presented to the body preliminary plans for the proposed library building on Whiteside Park, conditioned on the maintenance being guaranteed by the city. The plans were drawn up by Architect Pillsbury of Bloomington, providing for two floors. The outside dimensions are 30x60 feet. The first floor is devoted entirely to arrangements for the library, there being appointments for all departments of library work with dimensions of 28 x 58 feet. The basement provides for a club room that can be devoted to other purposes such as extension of the library and displays of historical articles. The club room is 36x28 feet, and there is a lobby 10x12 feet, and storage, boiler and coal rooms in addition to toilet facilities. Aldermen Gailhuly, Whiteside and Winters were appointed a special committee to arrange details for the acquisition of this new building for library purposes in conjunction with the library trustees. The cost is to be a minimum of $10,000. It provides facilities for public rest rooms and library quarters that have for years been urgently needed by White Hall, and announcement of the gift has sent a thrill of delight over the entire community. It will be of brick, and already there is a move in official quarters to see that its dedication is to the memory of the late Mrs. Seth N. Griswold, who was such a great public benefactor.

The regular order of business was suspended during the presentation of the plans by Mr. Griswold. Then came the presentation and allowance of claims to the amount of $1250. It developed that carelessness in handling the lights in the business district and in Whiteside Park were entailing an unnecessary expense approximately $700 per year regulation of this lighting. The street and alley committee was instructed to act in abating a mud hole on Bridgeport street just west of the C & A track. Bert Anderson complained that this mud hole was continually causing mud and water to overflow the surrounding walks.

The mayor called attention to the dangerous condition of the city reservoir dam, especially in the vicinity of the spillway, where a number of dangerous leaks had developed in the past few days with the reservoir excessively full of water. The water committee was authorized to proceed to make all needed repairs and improvements.

Water Commissioner Fry reported that one of the motors at the pumping station had been burned out by lightning, and the water committee was instructed to make immediate repairs.

The regulation of the price for street labor was presented, and it went over for action at an adjourned meeting to be held on the 19th inst., when the vote of the city election will be canvassed.

There is no outstanding contest in the city election on the 18th instant. Robert Shaw is the sole candidate for alderman in the first ward. In the second ward the candidates are Dean Corsa, John Conrod and Joseph Brown.

In the third ward Herbert Dugger is opposing Frank Dawdy for alderman. A police magistrate is to be elected, but no one field. There is not an issue involved.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Suit for damages based on alleged trespass of an eighth of an inch along a distance of fourteen feet in the construction of a house was smoothed out yesterday in Judge Deasy's court. The defendant agreed to shave off the offending fraction of an inch and the litigants left court.

LARGE ACREAGE OF COTTON IN TEXAS

Nueces County Alone Has 20,000 Acres More Than Last Year—Cold Weather Slightly Retarded Planting.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—(By The Associated Press.)—Cotton is already coming up now on about 20,000 more acres of land in cultivation in Nueces county than last year and approximately 80 per cent of that amount is of the better staple variety, according to reports received by the Rural Land Owners Association. The amount of staple cotton being planted this year is the result of the high premiums received last year on the better grade of cotton.

The percentage of cotton acreage in Nueces county this year has been decreased slightly but the acreage is considerably more, it is said, because of the new ground put into cultivation. Several years ago cotton was a negligible crop in this section, but in 1921 Nueces county ranked third in the cotton producing counties of the state.

Cotton planting was started in this section about a month ago, but was set back slightly by cold weather. It is believed, however, that a very small per cent of the cotton had been planted was damaged.

One thing that accounts for the decrease in the per cent of acres planted in cotton this year is the system of modified crop rotation which was worked out by the Agricultural and Mechanical College. A campaign for a system of crop rotation is being carried on in this county this year and according to M. C. Jaynes, county demonstration agent, many farmers are interested in the plan. This system calls for a rotation of one fifth of the acreage each year, which is a method of combatting root rot.

This campaign for a system of modified rotation will be carried on by the Rural Land Owners Association in much the same manner as was the staple cotton campaign last year, according to Roy Miller secretary of the association.

Mr. Miller has been in Washington for some time working on the deep water project but on his return to Corpus Christi during the past week declared that he was well pleased with the attention the farmers had been giving the plan.

Robert J. Kleberg of Kirksville one of the largest ranch men in the Southwest is president of the Association, while Cyrus B. Lucas new president of the Cattle Raisers association, is vice president. The association is not a land selling organization but is for the advancement of the interests of the rural land owners.

KEOKUK, Ia., April 6.—The origin of three fires at St. Joseph's hospital here early today are being investigated by local authorities. All the fires were on the first floor of the hospital building. While the firemen were fighting a blaze in a hall another fire was discovered in the day room thirty feet away. The third fire started in the closet of a room. Guards have been stationed in the building.

A Complete Cycle of Service
IN directing the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the 7 men responsible for its management and success keep constantly before them the ideals of service which have animated the organization in its development.
They are ever mindful of the fact that the service rendered by this Company bears a close and intimate relation to the progress, success and prosperity of practically every other industry. And that it has a major bearing on many professional and highly specialized branches of business.
They recognize the grave responsibility of supplying petroleum products to those who use the internal combustion engine as a source of power, and to those who depend upon this Company to lubricate their equipment in such manner as to conserve the power and the machinery which it operates.
These are the major and more obvious services rendered, but equal attention is given to problems affecting an individual or a small group.
This service may take the form of expert advice as to the best method of lubricating a single machine, it may be something to reduce the labor of the housewife, or to assist the medical profession in serving humanity. It may be a new kind of pavement or a method to increase or conserve the food supply.
These are but a few of the hundreds of ways in which Standard Oil service, positive and clearly defined, is helping and adding to the efficiency and economy of business generally.
As an example of how far this service is carried, we may mention the recently developed burning oil, Neolite, which supplies a growing demand for an oil used primarily in incubators and brooders, where a steady, unvarying heat must be maintained over a considerable period of time. To those who use incubators and brooders, Neolite is of great value.
While it is probable that the sales of this product will never attain a large volume, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) adds it to its long list of useful products that it may further discharge its obligation in rendering a complete cycle of service to 25 million people of 11 Middle Western States.

S. W. Nichols Writes More About Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Calif., Mar. 30, '22
Dear Journal:
Our stay in this city is proving very pleasant and already we have come across a number of people who welcome us most cordially. Mrs. Leahnah (Charles) Hayden, Mrs. Arthur Hayden, Miss Sheppard and sister and so many others we have met. Mrs. Hayden is looking very well now and seems to have recovered fully from her fall which she sustained not long before leaving home. Her son-in-law, Will Hogue, and children are near Riverside and are well, as I am informed.
William Widenham, head of a large insurance and loan establishment and J. T. Osborne's son, (either Percy or Ernest, is manager of a large shoe store and is erecting a fine house in Santa Monica. Rev. Arthur W. Rider is high up in Baptist circles and holds an important position and is now, I think, a D. D. His wife, Ada Tuman, later Mrs. H. M. Hamill, is the same merry, jovial, whole souled person as ever. I called at the office but Dr. Rider is away from home on church business but I found her, the picture of health and glad to see me. She is just as busy as ever and constantly in demand for committee meetings, lectures, addresses before all sorts of bodies and useful generally.
With George Martin we took a memorable ride to Riverside. The way led through Pomona and several other charming towns and we passed orange groves in abundance. Some had trees pretty well loaded with fruit while others were almost bare and in all of them the ground was covered with frost bitten oranges lying worthless. One man said he had twenty thousand dollars worth of fruit gone to rot. The loss by the great frost is estimated at all the way from fifty to seventy per cent. What they would have had in case of good weather is hard to realize. Still oranges and grape fruit are not expensive. Good oranges range from 15 to 25 cents a dozen and grapefruit 25 to 50 cents a dozen.
The great attraction at Riverside is the famous Mission Inn and it is truly a marvel. In 1870 a colony of eastern people came out here to start a home in the far west and employed C.C. Miller of Tomah, Wisconsin, as engineer. In 1873 he moved to Riverside with his family and built an adobe house, the first structure with solid walls in the locality.
The family at once began taking boarders in order to help along and named their place "The Glenwood Cottage." They gave such good satisfaction that their business soon outgrew the little adobe structure and various wooden affairs were added to the plant. "Glenwood Tavern" & "Glenwood Hotel" were some of the names later applied. In time the father died and the proprietorship descended to the son who is yet the owner though not an old man, while his sister, Mrs. Alice Richardson is the manager. They have made an immense amount of money and are surely enjoying it. The whole place is now of a great dimension and is receiving additions each year. Mr. Miller has been in Spain studying Spanish architecture and has made good use of his efforts as his plant will show.
In 1902 he decided he had money enough to gratify his tastes and he proceeded to do away with the temporary wooden structure which had been erected in days gone by and proceeded to build the "New Glenwood" which was decidedly pretentious. He and his father had wisely possessed themselves of enough land to enable them to have plenty of trees so that the whole place is like a dream. Pages of the Journal could be occupied with a description of the place and its treasures. It is the Mecca for wealthy tourists who like to live amid such surroundings while thousands upon thousands run out on the train, trolley or by auto to remain for a meal or a day or two at this means permit. They are prepared to feed, I should think, several thousand a day judging from the appearances at the time we took dinner there and often their full capacity is taxed.
I will add a brief, very brief, description of some of the leading features of the place. We first enter the courtyard or Court of the Birds which are plentiful in the many trees, through a series of arches copied from those of the Capistrano Mission. On the left are two old cannons brought from the Philippines. The tile covering on the roofed colonnade is from the San Luis Rey Mission and made by the Indians over 100 years ago. Several parrots hid visitors a noisy welcome or utter other sounds not so attractive but all interesting. A little bronze fountain top is from Nuremberg and just beyond it is a great, hollowed out stone from Rubidoux Mountain. Around this stone each fifth year the Indians used to have great religious ceremonies.
We now come to a patio which is familiar to any one who has traveled in Spain, or Mexico. It is simply an open court around which the main structure is erected. In this is the original adobe house built by Mr. Miller's father in the early days. Some interesting objects here are an ancient iron railing with a history and an old time navel orange tree; a bronze bell fromanking, China; an old time, clumsy Mexican cart with wheels chopped out of a log and as awkward and clumsy as can well be imagined. On we go through an archway copied from the famous Campanario of the San Gabriel Mission.
Over the entrance to the Inn is a plaque representing the Mission Inn crest and many other designs which I cannot take time to describe. St. Catharine's well flanks the entrance to the east and the St. Francis' shrine is in the northwest corner of the patio. The doors open into the lobby of the hotel. The huge dining room is on the left and straight ahead is the Spanish patio used in pleasant weather as a dining room. On we go through to the President's suite which has been occupied by Taft, Roosevelt, foreign ambassadors and various persons of note. The paneling about the walls is from a convent in Belgium carved by the artist who did most of the carving for the grand cathedral at Antwerp. The black walnut chest, bench and chairs came from Carnarvan Castle, Wales. In the ceiling are small carved shields the wooden door leading into the private suites of rooms is a Belgian replica of the old Gothic door and the iron gate and all the other iron works is original Renaissance and was imported from Seville, Spain.
Crossing the lobby diagonally to the right are seen the cabinets, one containing curlics from all parts of the world, and the other a number of bells. On a lacquer stand is a large gong, very rare and historical. On it is an inscription "Given to the Temple of Zenko by Onoda Yoshimatsu in the year 645 A. D." This temple is the original Buddhist shrine of Japan.
We next descend into the cloister, music room and pass by Aguinado's personal flag and an iron chest captured from the insurgent Philippines chief. Three silk flags were once the property of the third Napoleon, a stone gargyle is of the tenth century and from northern Spain. The music room represents the old baronial knight hall and in it is a fine pipe organ which is used each day in a concert after dinner and for all kinds of special occasions such as weddings, parties, dances and the like. The windows are of the choicest stained glass and represent St. Cecilia, patron saint of music and is flanked on the one side by Franciscan monks and on the other by Dominican nuns.
We now pass through an archway and enter a corridor 300 feet long and representing the cloisters of the Franciscan Monastery at Assisi. On the walls are some fine paintings called the Ford collection and are the most valuable of any mission paintings in existence. An iron gate on the right leads into the Oriental room and the curio shop. A small room on the left contains many valuables. In a room on the right is an old copper front from the church at Taos, New Mexico, and in which, or by which many have been baptized in days gone by.

Next comes the Consistorio which was especially built to furnish a suitable place for the Vatican group, which was intended for the Italian building at the world fair in San Francisco but for some reason were not placed there and were bought by Mr. Miller. They are full life size and robed in state dress and comprise Pope Pius X, Cardinal Rampolla, Cardinal Mathieu, the Chamberlain, the Seal Bearer, the two officers of the Papal guard, two soldiers of the Swiss guard and four Chair Bearer, making in all an imposing spectacle. The faces are correct portraits and the robes are carefully copied from the originals. Near by is a fine copy of Murillo's famous "Immaculate Conception," the original of which is in the Louvre gallery at Paris and having seen the latter can say the copy is especially fine.
Next comes the Santo Clara Chapel with many priceless relics and treasures that cannot be mentioned. Next are the Oriental rooms containing a wealth of articles from Japan, China and other far away lands. Then we come to the Apache trail containing a great collection of Indian blankets and after it the Pueblo council chamber and next is the Sala de Arcus with interesting articles from all over Europe and other lands farther away and near by is the souvenir room with all manner of antique furniture and couldn't help thinking of some of my friends at home who are admirers of colonial chairs and other furniture.
Now we will go to the cloistered walk with its five-arches dedicated to the five principal missions but I cannot devote enough space to a detail description of what follows. In the Refectory are many articles from Spain, among them a lot of household utensils used by pious people in monasteries and convents. In another room is a collection of crosses ancient and historical, and not far away is the St. Cecilia room, a private chapel in which have occurred many swell weddings then the Carmel room with many choice pictures. The Spanish art gallery has a choice collection of paintings, antiques, relics and historical articles in great number. The most important of which is a gorgeous altar resplendent in gold leaf. It is 25 feet high, 18 wide, exquisitely carved and of great value. It is said that there is hardly an altar in the country that will compare with or even in Mexico. It cost abroad $150,000 and is indeed wonderfully fine. Then there are the Spanish patio, the kitchen, a unique hat rack made of French bayonets used in the Prussian war, a collection of rare old Colonial furniture, fit to make and collector green with envy and several times we mentioned some home friends who would have gone wild over it. It is simply useless to talk even of the corridors filled with curios from all parts of the world nor of the wonderful collection of bells, 321 in number and each a wonderful history, nor of the collection of crosses, about 200 in all and the largest and most representative in the world, and making one think of the grand hymn: "In the Cross of Christ O glory, Towering o'er the wrecks of time; All the light of sacred story Gathers round its head sublime."
In addition are many crucifixes and sacred articles from Mohammedan and Buddhist temples in all numbering 11.
The foregoing is but a very meager and scant description of this wonderful place and no wonder people flock there from all parts of the world to see it and visit there. Of course it doubtless takes a long purse to stay there long but a guest even for dinner is welcome to all the sights of the place.
S. W. NICHOLS.

WHEAT AVERAGED HIGHER IN PRICE

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 6.—Wheat averaged moderately higher in price today owing more to the unfavorable crop reports from the southwest and to firmness of quotations at Liverpool. The closing here was unsettled at 1c to 2c net gain with May $1.304 to $1.302 and July $1.18 1/2 to $1.19. Corn finished 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher; oats up 1/2 to 3/4 and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 1/2c decline.

According to a prominent expert the winter wheat crop southwest is in general late and likely to show rapid deterioration if the weather in May proves as dry as usual.

With such an opinion receiving general attention and with the Liverpool market failing to reflect the keen inquiry for new under-writings, domestic and foreign, steady expansion of iron and steel at higher prices and marked gains shown by railroad earnings.
Selling for profits, such as inevitably accompanies such a sweeping advance, made a pronounced impression upon prices in the last hour the realizing movement being attended by an advance in call money from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

The irregular course of foreign exchanges to which Italian and German rates were the only striking exceptions was ascribed in large part to the demand made by England on her former allies for interest payments on war loans. Liberty 3 1/2 and several of the Fours and 4 1/2 duplicated or exceeded previous high records in the bond market. Total sales par value, aggregated $16,549,000.

Provisions lacked support
despite higher quotations on hogs.
Smallness of provisions shipments from here compared with a year ago was a weakening factor.

HEAVY BUSINESS
ON STOCK MARKET

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 6.—Trading on the stock exchange today assumed the vast dimensions of the hectic days of the world war.
Sales, at extreme gains of 1 to 6 points, aggregated 1,575,000 shares. More than seventy issues scored highest quotations of the year.

Virtually all classes of stocks were carried forward by the movement which probably comprehended the largest number of separate issues ever traded in at this center.

The same causes which gave momentum to the markets of the past few weeks were again the

ENDOWMENT SHIP LAUNCHED THURSDAY

Impressive Ceremony Held at Woman's College—Starts Campaign for Raising $20,000.

An impressive and pretty ceremony was held at Illinois Woman's College Wednesday evening when the "Good Ship Endowment" was launched as a beginning for the campaign which will be conducted this spring for the raising of $20,000, as additional funds for the endowment. The boat was a small sailing craft, made in the college shop and was launched with the regular ceremonies, in the fountain in the East Court of the campus.

Miss Marian McOmber read a little poem and essay about the ship before it was launched. Little George Hamilton then christened the boat and Jay Hamilton launched the tiny craft on its maiden voyage. The students all gathered on the campus to witness the ceremony and the campaign opened with great enthusiasm. The amount which is to be secured during the present drive is $20,000 and $8,000 has already been pledged.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

An interclass track meet is to be staged by the high school, next Wednesday afternoon at the close of school hours. The boys in the various classes are having meetings today to select captains for the teams and a great deal of enthusiasm is being shown in the event. A big turnout of class athletes is expected and class rivalry will be keen. No athlete will be permitted to participate in the distance runs unless he is thoroughly trained and in condition for the event.

A very successful and popular sandwich sale was held at the high school last evening after school. The sandwiches were some left from a sale held at the Jefferson School under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. E. B. Sturgeon was the chairman of the committee in charge of the sale and the money was for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher organization in the First Ward.

In the general assembly exercises at the high school yesterday Principal Slater talked to the students in regard to the plans for work next year. It is the plan to get the work outlined for next

ONLY HORSE CAB ON CHICAGO'S SOUTH SIDE

Driver Finds PicNing Spot in These Days of Taxi—Can't Do Anything Else Now.

Chicago, Ill.—Repeating a copy-book maxim to keep his courage up, Edward Budd, the only horse-cab driver left on the south side and one of the last seven in the city, remains on duty despite the motor competition which he says is starving the old-fashioned cabbie out of existence and will soon make him a memory.

"Five years ago there were about 500 of us, and plenty of work for all," he remarked as he waited for customers. "Now I am lucky if I make $5 a week, and sometimes two weeks pass without bringing me a nickel, though I'm on watch from early in the afternoon until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning."

"When I get discouraged, though, I remember a saying I learned at school. 'Perseverance overcomes every obstacle.' I say that over to myself sometimes, and then I think of school days in Hampshire, when I saw her majesty, the queen. We children stood on a bench as she passed, and her majesty stopped and pinned a white rose on my lapel. I'll never forget that."

I'd quit driving if I could do anything else, but I froze my feet twenty-odd years ago in a storm that tied up all the trains. I was out all night driving people home who would have frozen to death if I'd stayed in and taken care of myself. Now those same people would pass me by and take a taxicab."

Mr. Budd was a coachman for a family of means in England before he came to America 4 years ago, and has been a cab-driver in Chicago ever since.

CHRISTIAN LADIES AID OF LITERBERRY MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Literberry Christian church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Aitor. The members were present in large numbers and several guests were also in attendance.

The program of the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. Fred Henderson, chairman, and included Easter papers by Mrs. Effie Murphree, Mrs. Nora Meul and Mrs. Edward Aitor. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Frank Ogle, the president of the society. A business session was held at which time plans for the annual June summer were discussed. A committee was appointed by Mrs. Ogle to purchase silverware, dishes and linen for the supper. A social hour and the serving of delicious refreshments brought the enjoyable afternoon to a close.

WORLD WAR HAS AWAKENED IDEALS

Peoples of Asia and Africa stirred to their depths—Democracy has also spread to Japan.

NEWARK N. J.—The ideals of self determination and democracy which were among the aims of the World War have stirred the peoples of Asia and Africa to their depths, said Rev. Dr. Titus Lowe of New York, recently corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address here tonight at the Newark Methodist conference. Dr. Lowe characterized the recent conference on the limitation of armaments and Pacific problems as the greatest achievement in foreign missions in many centuries. He said in part:

In Japan there is the cry for rice and a roof and for a share in the government on the part of an ever-increasing number in that empire, a rising tide of democracy in that country with its autocratic government. In China we have a great development in which a quarter of the human race is endeavoring to organize itself in a popular government. We have never yet appreciated the magnitude of that movement of 400 millions in China. In India the British empire is transferring to the people great governmental responsibilities. There is insistent need that spiritual ideals resting on a foundation of education, not the ideals of ignorant anarchy and materialism, shall dominate these movements.

"Think of the race question! Unless we turn a new page in history and work out some means of cooperation between races we are going forth to a struggle even worse than that through which we have just come. All the time we are preaching to the world in our commercial and international relationships and in all ways of communication with the world if there can be only one result.

"Industrialism, though farther advanced in Japan, is making rapid progress in China. We are exporting not only our machinery, but our industrial problems.

The Washington conference was foreign missionary affair because it took steps toward the accomplishment of the ultimate end of foreign missions which is the establishment of good will and brotherhood among the nations. But it is not enough to make treaties without the spirit of confidence, mutual good will and moral integrity.

The time has gone by when foreign missions can be regarded as the specialty of a few fanatics. "Today there are considerably more than a million Christians in China."

Mrs. Ira Ham of Concord was listed among arrivals in the city yesterday.
